

Before this survey, had you heard of synthetic biology?

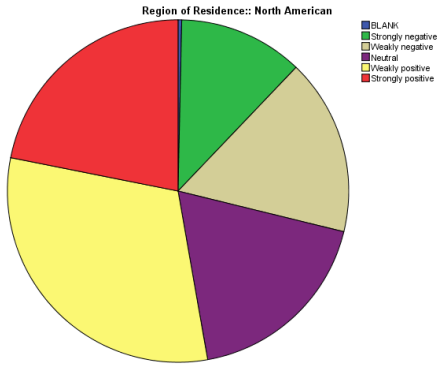

Having read the above, how would you describe your feelings towards synthetic biology?

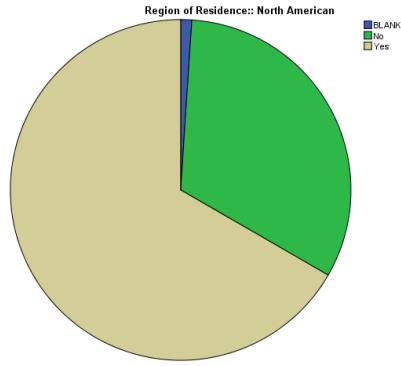

Have you heard of GMOs (genetically modified organisms)?

After reading the above, how would you describe your feelings towards GMOs?

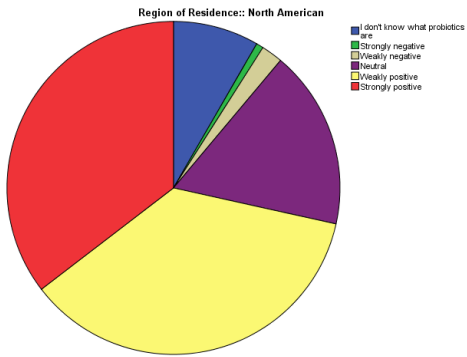

In general, would you consume GMOs?

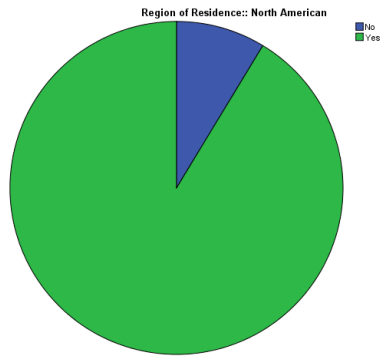

Would you eat rice that produces necessary vitamins if the production of these vitamins was caused by genetic modification?

How do you feel about probiotics?

Would you consume bacteria if it were shown to help your digestion?

Would you drink water that is purified by bacteria if there are 0 bacteria in the water when you drink it, and the water is shown to be safe?

If you were to see "Bacteria Filter Plastics from Water" as a headline, what would your reaction be?

Do you think the benefits of the bacterial filtration outweigh the outlined risks?

